Tornado Safety Tips

If you can see the tornado in the distance the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) recommends driving out of its path by moving at right angles to the tornado. You should also seek shelter immediately. The following sturdy shelters are suggested:

- * Truck stops
- * Convenience stores
- * Restaurants
- * Basements
- * Walk-in coolers

Stay Safe!

If the tornado threat is immediate or you are caught in extreme winds and flying debris park your car as quickly as possible. Stay in your car with your seatbelt buckled. Cover your head and face from glass with a jacket, blanket, cushion or by ducking. Get lower than the roadway and duck and cover.

There are two things you should never do during a tornado.

1. Don't seek shelter under an underpass. Winds are actually higher in these openings.
2. Don't seek shelter under a car as debris could fall on top of it.

Tom's Tool Box Tips

Drivers must have ELD Instructions for roadside inspectors. If you do not have an instruction sheet in in your truck stop by dispatch and pick one up.

Make sure that permit books are up to date and a part of your pre trip inspection

Pay close attention to tire pressure during your pre trips, this is the season for "May pops", as we go from winter to Spring every truck must have a paper log book (for back up purposes), this is in case your E-logs go down and are not operational
